CONTINUATION OF "NAME OF CRIME"

Involuntary Manslaughter, General Statute 14-18, Class F felony.

A person guilty of this offense

- (1) Kills
- (2) Another living human being
- (3)(a) By an unlawful act that does not amount to a felony and is not ordinarily dangerous to life or
- (b) By a culpably negligent act or omission.

Element (3)(b). For a detailed discussion of culpable negligence, see "Criminal Negligence" in Chapter 1 (States of Mind). As discussed there, criminal negligence means a carelessness or recklessness that shows a thoughtless disregard of consequences or a heedless indifference to the safety and rights of others. By contrast, the malice required for second-degree murder includes commission of an inherently dangerous act in such a reckless and wanton manner as to manifest a mind utterly without regard for human life and social duty and deliberately bent on mischief. See the note on Element (3)(a)(i) to "First-Degree Murder" (defining malice for homicide crimes), above. Thus, courts have stated that "[t]he difference between involuntary manslaughter and second-degree murder is one of the degree of risk and recklessness involved." State v. Ray, 149 N.C. App. 137, 148 (2002); see also State v. Rich, 351 N.C. 386, 395 (2000).

On February 3rd, 2024 Detective Sergeant Andrew Shook and Detective Stony Gonce responded to Trails Carolina located at 500 Winding Gap Road, Lake Toxaway North Carolina, 28747, in reference to a deceased 12 year old juvenile male. Members of the Lake Toxaway Fire Department were first on scene and requested Law Enforcement to the scene. Trails Carolina is a camp for troubled youth to attend.

Det. Shook and Gonce arrived at the location and began to process the scene. The Juvenile who will not be named in this Search Warrant will be referred to as CJH. CJH's body was laying in what is referred to as a "bunk house" which is the sleeping quarters for the juvenile campers. It is a square structure that appears to be made out of wood. The front entrance is covered by a porch.

CONTINUATION OF "FACTS TO ESTABLISH PROBABLE CAUSE"

Upon entering the structure they observed CJH laying in the floor of the bunk house on a mat. The body was in Rigor Mortis at this time and was cold to the touch. CJH was laying on his back with his arms on his chest and his knees bent upwards toward the sky. He was wearing a red hoodie as well as a blue shirt underneath. He also had a CPR mask covering his face. CJH is a white male, with brown hair. He was not wearing any pants or underwear. CJH's pants and underwear were laying next to his right shoulder. During interviews, camp counselors were asked how his pants got into this position and they did not know.

CJH had Lividity settled into his back when he was examined by Detectives Shook and Gonce. They also noted possible petechial located in the lips and possible eyes. They noted a extended vain on his neck and possible bruising around the eye. Once they rolled the body, CJH began to foam at the mouth, which could've indicated that he ingested some sort of poison.

Medical Examiner Anthony Messer was requested to the scene to examine the body. He determined that it would be a ME case and to transport the body to the morgue so that it can be taken for autopsy. There were more examinations done with CJH at the morgue, which was documented, by Anthony Messer as well as Det. Gonce and Shook.

Det. Shook interviewed Jackson Riley Hunt at the Transylvania County Sheriff's Office located at 153 Public Safety Way, Brevard North Carolina 28712. During this interview, it was revealed that Mr. Hunt is one of the counselors for the camp. He explained to Det. Shook that CJH had been at Trails Carolina for less than 24 hrs. CJH had refused to eat dinner at the camp when he was brought in. It was described that he was loud and irate when he first arrived at the camp. Mr. Hunt said that he had calmed down later in the evening and ate some of the snacks that they provide.

Mr. Hunt then explained CJH's sleeping arrangements. He describe that CJH would have to sleep on the floor of the bunk house, the base layer of it is a heavy duty plastic that is cut approximately 6 feet and tied on each end with a string, on top of this is a sleeping Bivvy which is considered a small tent. One side is collapsed and the other side is held up by a flex pole.

Inside of this bivvy is where the sleeping bag is placed, and CJH would have to sleep like this on the first night per protocol of Trails Carolina. On the zipper of the bivvy is a small alarm apparatus that is triggered to go off anytime someone tries to exit the bivvy. This device was covered by green tape and was seized along with the other items CJH was sleeping in.

Mr. Hunt described how at approximately 12:00-12:30 am, CJH began to experience a panic attack. Him and another counselor stood along the wall while CJH was experience panic and high anxiety. Mr. Hunt did not mention if he or other counselors attempted to assist CJH with any easement during his anxiety attack. Mr. Hunt also mentioned that CJH could exit the bivvy at any time, but he when he describe any interaction with CJH he kept stating "we" would open or close the bivvy. Mr. Hunt also explained that CJH was checked on at 12:00 am, 3:00 am, 6:00 am, and was found dead at 7:45 am, and he was cold to the touch and stiff.

Det. Gonce and Shook attempted to gain information on the other four juveniles that were in the bunk house along with CJH when he died. Trails Carolina staff refused to allow us to speak with any juveniles on sight, as well as see them. They also refused to give out any of the juveniles names or date of births, or any other information as well.

Transylvania County Department of Social Services attempted to check on the welfare of the children as well and were met with the same refusal by any and all Trails Carolina staff. DSS was provided with first names of the juveniles but nothing else. When they attempted to ascertain the whereabouts of these juveniles, they refused to disclose the locations of them.
